Red Cross Budget for Carmel Set at $3000

Drive Will Begin November 11. This Will be Only Organization in Carmel to Care for Needy This Winter—Give Your Dollar.

At the Red Cross rooms an important meeting of the executive board of the Carmel chapter was held last Monday.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss and decide upon the budget for the coming year.

The disbursements for the past year were studied and the relief that the Red Cross can anticipate having to provide in the next twelve months were estimated as accurately as it is possible at this time.

The decision of the board was that $3,000 must be raised to carry on the relief work.

It was pointed out that the Red Cross is the only relief organization operating in Carmel and that it therefore has to meet very many calls. It was also emphasized that the Carmel chapter has to look for its support almost entirely to contributions given directly at the annual drive which begins this year on November 11.

Many Parties Honor Miss Mabel Morrell

Many social affairs were given in honor of Miss Mabel Morrell before she left Carmel to sail from San Francisco on the S. S. General Lee for Shanghai, Oct. 12. Miss Helene Eichaker gave a dinner party in her honor the first of last week. Miss Edith Smythe entertained at a farewell luncheon with a group of Miss Morrell's friends including Mrs. George Vye, Miss Mildred Wright, Miss Hallie Shmoon, Miss Rene Wilson, Miss Camella Hargrave and Miss Morrell's sister, Mrs. Susan Taylor of San Jose.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Phoebe Pelton entertained at a fraewell luncheon for Miss Morrell. The guests included Madame Mona Mariansky, Miss Camella Hargrave and Miss Merle Pelton. Many Carmel friends extend best wishes for Miss Morell in her new home.

Ruth Wilson Concert Delighted Audience

Youth is uncompromising—it is therefore not surprising that at an earlier period we were willing to accord greatness to but a limited number of musicians. Maturity brings its compensating impersonal vision and the few that we once considered as gods increase in number. Thus now we feel justified to include Corinne Frederick and Ruth Wilson, if not among the greatest musicians, at least among those who can provide an evening of most authentic and pleasing interpretations.

At the Denny-Watrous Gallery last Friday evening the audience was unanimous in acclaiming these two young musicians and seemed willing to accord them places among musicians of rank.

Miss Frederick has a supreme technique, an amazing ease of performance and her orchestral coloring, doubtless influenced by long association as pianist with the St. Louis Symphony, resulted in interpreattions of marked individualism.

Miss Wilson, who gave her first concert long before she received her grammar school diploma, plays with that assurance and mastery which is seldom possessed by other than those who were child prodigies. Her tone is broad and colorful. Her bowing has a masculine sweep and whether a cantibale phrase is played, a pizzicate tone struck or a fortissimo chord drawn across the strings Ruth Wilson never ceases to convince us that the violin is her instrument.

Mrs. Vera Koch is able to be at the Cottage Furniture shop this week after being absent on account of illness.

Fishermen Laud Work of F. R. Bechdolt

(From Monterey Herald)

Appreciation for the efforts made by F. R. Bechdolt of Carmel, named as special local representative of the National Labor Board, to effect mediation of the sardine industry dispute, and recognition of the value of results accomplished in negotiations conducted by him are expressed in a statement issued today by Argyll Campbell, attorney for the boat owners' association. Campbell's statement follows:

"The boat owners and fishermen of the sardine fleet not only in Monterey but throughout California wish to express publicly their dept of gratitude to Frederick R. Bechdolt, Monterey peninsula NRA committeeman, for the untiring, able and devoted efforts he has made toward the settlement of the statewide tie-up of the sardine industry.

"Mr. Bechdolt has shown himself to be a negotiator of the highest order and he proved that he is eminently fair to both the canners and reducers on the one side and the boat owners and fishermen on the other.

"If a settlement is arrived at in the present controversy, it will be very largely due to the NRA and to the work of Mr. Bechdolt of Carmel, and to an important degree, also to Russell Scott, county director of the NRA at Salinas.

"Had it not been for the basic work done by Mr. Bechdolt the possibility of mediation through either the state or federal government, would have been extremely remote, whereas due to his efforts the chances for successful mediation seem very favorable today."

Boy Scout Father and Son Banquet

The fathers of Carmel boy scouts are due for a treat! The boy scouts proud of their progress in culinary achievement are going to entertain and prepare food for the fathers at a barbecue on the Tevis ranch this coming Saturday, October 14.

Scoutmasters Neikirk and Bauerschmidt state that the enthusiasm of the boys indicates that there will be a fine gathering of fathers. The members of the boy scout troop preparing the father and son beabecue are:

Robert Rand, Freer Godfried, Robert Bello and Albert Petty.

Carmel Has More Money This Year

Carmel's financial statement read at the city council last week by the City Clerk Saidee Van Brower showed that Carmel's financial status is better this year than last.

The October 1st balance this year was $3,830.63 as against a balance of only $2,709.56 last October.

The council is to be commended. They have watched their steps carefully and during no month exceeded their budget, although they have not neglected any thing for the good of the city.

Two guests enjyoed the afternoon with the regular members. They were: Miss Armstrong and Mrs. Dorsett.

Returning this week to Carmel after a honeymoon spent at Lake Arrowhead and in Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Hilbert who were married in the Del Monte Chapel September 28 have taken up residence in a cottage on Lincoln between 8th and 9th.

Mrs. Hilbert was Miss Dorothy Benson. Mr. Hilbert has returned to his position in the Bank of Carmel. The popular young couple are being congratulated by many local friends.

Bob Gooding Entertains Carmel With Saxophone

On a bright moonlight night last week villagers were surprised to hear a sweet-toned saxophone in the street playing "Pale Moon" and other romantic tunes. Radios were turned off and people leaned out windows to listen and see a bearded man playing gentle tunes on the instrument invented for jazz.

Bob Gooding, the wandering saxophone minstrel, by his own statement is known the world over by Presidents and Kings, and has wandered on to Salinas after several days spent here at Pine Inn.

"He plays the saxophone like Paderewski plays the piano," says Mrs. Holman of Pacific Grove, introducing him here. He played at the schools on the peninsula, offering to play for charitable affairs.

Open Rehearsals of Orchestra at Gallery

The Monterey Peninsula Orchestra, under the direction of Michel Penha, which has been rehearsing on several numbers, now has them so well in hand that they give enjoyable evening to the music lovers who attend the open rehearsals each Sunday evening.

There was quite a large crowd present Sunday evening, and the number will doubtless increase each week.

Inquest Into Bell Death Held Tuesday

An inquest into the death of John Bell, who was fatally injured a month ago when his truck crashed into Toro bridge on the Salinas highway, brough the verdict that "Death was due to injuries received in an automobile accident."

District Attorney Harry Noland stated that a thorough investigation had been made and that he thought it possible that Bell, who had probably feared hold-ups, was delirious when he said that two men had tried to hold him up.

Mrs. Bell, Dr. John R. Gray and Neil Twilegar were among the Carmel people who testified at the hearing.

Mission Guild Will Give Another Party

Department Reports On Sunset School

The following abridgment of the state engineer's report regarding the condition of the Sunset School buildings was made by C. J. Ryland and checked and approved by W. O. Raiguel. This abridgment is offered for the convenience of the general public. The full report is available at the school office.

Address to Sunset School District, Carmel, California.

As per your request the Division of Architecture, Department of Public Works, has investigated the structural adequacy of the Sunset School to withstand earthquakes, wind pressure and the loads it is required to carry "without excessive or undue strain."

The investigation was based on an examination of the buildings and plans.

In formulating the conclusions and recommendations the "Division of Architecture has considered it outside the scope of the investigation to make definite recommendations with regard to the economic feasibility of the reconstruction . . . Consequetly, where reconstruction is possible, the nature and extent of repairs necessary have been described without reference to justification for the expenditure involved."

"It should be pointed out and kept in mind when reading the detailed report that prior to the enactment of the socalled earthquake law, very few building codes or ordinances required that provision be made for building structures to withstand earthquake."

"Critical examination of the various buildings disclosed that they were in excellent condition and that materials and workmanship entering into their construction were of noticeably good quality indicating careful inspection and conscientious service in the construction of these building units to safely support such nominal loads as they might be expected to carry."

Earthquakes produce violent, alternating motion combined with impact which "raises questions entirely apart from the basis upon which these buildings were originally designed."

Therefore, "to reduce any possible earthquake hazzard to a minimum, it is necessary that certain reconstruction be undertaken."

"If the Board of Education of the City of Carmel decides to proceed with this work" they should employ an architect or structural engineer to prepare the plans and "submit them to the State Division of Architecture for approval before starting any work."

Any strengthening would have to meet the approval of the State Division of Architecture and be made strong enough to carry 5 per cent of the weight of the building pushing against the building from any angle and applied horizontally against the building.

*Note: The words in quotation are a direct copy of the report.

Good Card at Presidio For Tomorrow Night

By the Sports Editor

Two fast-fighting, hard-hitting, lightweighters trade leather in the main event at the army Post Fridya night. Charley Miller and Manilla Mike O'Doud. This should be as good a battle as the Brandies and O'Grady fight two weeks ago. The army post is spending a lot of money to bring the best fighters on the coast for their main events.

Kid Frenchy and Ham Hamilton mix it up for six rounds or less, mostly less, as both boys pack sleeping powder in leather gloves. The first boy that slips a punch through wins by a knockout.

Frank Dalton of Carmel climbs through the ropes for the second time in his young life and is again the short-ender in the betting. He meets Tex Rickard of the Presidio. Tex has had plenty of fights, is ring-wise and the army boys are backing him to win.

But a fight is never over until the last bell and if Frank drops that heavy right on the soldier's jaw, the victory may go to Carmel. At least two hundred fight fans drove over the hill to see the last fights and it looks like twice that many will go this time. Four more good fights make up the card. The first fight starts at eight sharp.

Frank Dalton will fight Willard Tevis in Salinas Friday the 20th at the Salinas Athletic club and the following week at King City.

Mr. Kuster Produces Second Play of Series

Those who like the legitimate theatre will be glad to learn that Mr. Kuster's next production, "Art and Mrs. Bottle" at the Community Playhouse, October 26, 27 and 28, is another production of the Golden Bough Players and a part of Mr. Kuster's plan to eventually re-open the Golden Bough Theater as a legitimate theater only. When the present lease as a movie house epires three years hence, Mr. Kuster expects to have things so organizezd that he will be able to use The Golden Bough Theatre, one of the best equipped in the United States, for the purpose it was originally intended, the production of the very best in the drama.

In order that "Art and Mrs. Bottle" should not follow too closely on the heels of "The Devil Who Saw God," Edward Kuster is making the actual Pacific Coast premiere of Benn Levy's sprightly comedy at the Watsonville Woman's club next Thursday, October 19th..

The Carmel performances will follow on the succeeding weekend, the 26th, 27th, and 28th. Several Carmel parties are already made up to drive over to Watsonville to witness the first performance.

Pinkhams to Los Gatos After Year in Carmel

Coming as a distinct loss to the social and dramatic life of Carmel this week was the moving of the Edwin Pinkham family to Los Gatos. Although the Pinkhams have been here only about a year they have been so active in the life of the village that they will be missed by many friends. The family includes Mr. and Mrs. Pinkham and four daughters, Marion, Edwina, Betty and Ruth. The reason for the choosing of the new home is that the Los Gatos climate is more favorable for Mrs. Pinkham's health.

Former Carmel Writer Has Story in Harpers

Carmel friends, especially, are enjoying a story by Charles Purdy in Harper's this month. It is the Veinna Waltz.

Mr. Purdy is a son of Mrs. Purdy who lives at Pine Inn and has a great many friends here who are delighted at his success.

Mrs. W. D. Kirkman of Salinas has taken one of the Wilson cottages on the Point for a month and will have with her a party of friends.

Little did anyone think, a few years ago, that he would be able to hear the famous violinist, Micha Elman, in Carmel. But such is possible now through the Carmel Music Society Winter Series, which brings to this little village for its 1933-34 winter season, Micha Elman, Oct. 31; Teresina, the renowned Spanish dancer on Dec. 9; Gieseking, greatest of pianists, on Feb. 10; and the Children's Crusade, a work of giant proportions for full orchestra (the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra), five soloists, mixed chorus of sixty voices. This great oratorio will be conducted by Michel Penha, and come as a climax of the work of the orchestra under that great leader's direction and the fostering care of the Carmel Music Society.

Season tickets are now on sale at the Denny-Watrous Gallery, or may be secured by telephoning Mrs. Paul Flanders, Carmel 22. Select the seat you want for the year before it is too late.

INTERESTING CARMEL

Interesting things about Carmel

Would you like to hear something about the beautiful ranches in Carmel Valley, under this column? Carmel Sun presents this week the Sidney Fish home off the Big Sur highway:

Sidney Fish Ranch Is "Homey" Place

'Tis the miracle of the hills and Fishes. Five years ago, what is now Palo Corona was just another wild spot in the hills south of Carmel. But the Sidney Fishes came, they saw and the view conquered. They purchased 680 acres of scenery and range country. They chose a site for their house, and now that site is a beauty spot of the country. The main house is simple, white with blue trimmings, with a lovely porch on the east overlooking a thick padded lawn, fringed by beautiful trees and flowers. A large fish pond close to the house has recently been painted blue and is to be stocked with all kinds of moss.

On the west side, one may wander down rock steps over a winding route to a sunken garden, sweet with blue grass and wild flowers. This is indeed a restful spot and is a retreat for the family.

The view from one side shows the foaming waters of the Pacific as they dash against the rocky shore, and from another angle one may look on acres of artichoke fields forming lovely green carpets in Carmel Valley. From another side one looks into the blue mistiness of the neighboring hills, dotted here and there with cattle and horses. For Sidney Fish loves cattle and horses and came to this ranch to gratify his desire to raise them. There are about 500 head of cattle on Palo Corona now and a fine lot of riding horses.

To the 680 acres of the original purchase has been added enough more to make a 4,000 acre ranch, and one must drive eight miles and more to go from one end to the other.

Tex Raybourne is manager of the ranch, advised by Mrs. Raybourne and little Miss Rosalind, who spend many pleasant hours riding over the hills on horseback.

Henry Morales is the gardener. At present he is delighted with the success he is having with moss he set between the flaggings in the patio.

Palo Corona is a homey place—a place where one would be contented to stay and let the rest of the world go dry.

25,000,000 Russians Starving Under Iron Heel of Stalin

Press Release of
The Central Executive Board of the United Russian
Organizations in America
5 Columbus Circle
New York City

RESOLUTION

At a mass meeting held in New York on the 16th day of September, 1933, summoned on the initiative of the All-Russian National Peasants' Alliance, Inc., the following Resolution was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS numerous accurate and undeniable data have been received in this country revealing the fact that Russia at present is again in the iron clutches of King Hunger, and that at least twenty-five million Russians, mostly in the Northern Caucasus, the Don Basin and along the Black Sea Coast are doomed to death from starvation;

WHEREAS the famine epidemic in Russia is the direct result, the logical outcome and the immediate consequence of the incompetent, insane, brutal and treacherous economic and social policies of the Stalin regime;

WHEREAS the Red rulers of Russia, through their paid agents and duped sympathizers, are deliberately and maliciously deceiving public opinion in this country by printing falsified reports on the alleged success of the harvest campaign in Russia, as well as by insidious denials of the dreadful facts relative to the famine situation in the U.S.S.R.;

WHEREAS the Communists are obstinately adhering to these malicious tactics because at present they are conducting negotiations with unscrupulous bankers for long term credits to be extended to the Soviets;

WHEERAS the plight of the Russian people at present has reached catastrophic proportions and the whole nation is thrown into the abyss of humiliating misery and starvation,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT UNANIMOUSLY RESOLVED:

I. To apply to the President of the United States with the urgent request that prompt relief in the form of food, clothing and medical supplies, be sent to Russia through American relief organization specially created therefor;

II. That these supplies be distributed in the hunger stricken districts of the U.S.S.R. by the American relief commissioners themselves and not by the Soviet authorities who are directly responsible for the horrors now taking place in Russia;

III. To communicate copies of this Resolution to the Department of State, the American Red Cross, the Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the United States Senate, the United States Chamber of Commerce, the State Chambers of Commerce, and the representative organs of the American Press;

IV. To apply to the Christian Church of all denominations, urging its immediate assistance in the matter of extending relief to the starving Russian people.

BE IT FURTHER UNANIMOUSLY RESOLVED:

The Russians attending the present mass meeting, who are mostly American citizens and voters, bitterly condemn the insidiuos campaign and propaganda for the recognition by the United States Government of the bloody Stalin regime.

AND FURTHER:

They express the hope that the President of the United States will prevent the disgrace of extending recognition to a Government which in Russia itself is hated by the Russian people and which openly seeks to crush American institutions and to stamp the American flag into the mud of a social revolution.

SUNSET TEAM PLAYS WELL FOR BEGINNERS

Considering the greenness of material on the grammar school baseball team the 5-3 score with the Pacific Grove winning last Wednesday afternoon was not discouraging, Mr. Bardarson reports. Most of the regular team members last year graduated.

Employment Commission Makes Annual Statement

At the last meeting of the Employment Commission the treasurer, James L. Cockburn, was instructed to publish a financial report covering the entire work of the commission from its beginning in November 1931 to the present time. Included in the report which follows is an additional sum of $49.00 received from the faculty of Sunset school subsequent to the meeting.

The financial statement shows $9304.82 paid for labor to Carmel persons in need of employment.

To this should be added $300 which the Red Cross paid directly to the workers in addition to the $200 which was paid through the commission and included in this report.

The issue of one thousand Carmel Dollars has supplied a further and very necessary $1000 of the payroll to those for whom employment was provided.

Carmel people have responded very generously to every appeal of the commission, however, in view of the fact that the county now has state and federal funds available to meet the unemployment situation, the local commission does not feel justified in the continuance of appeals to Carmel residents for funds and is therefore abut to close its books.

NO NEWS PROVES TO BE GOOD NEWS

Seeing a man in conventional movie burglar attire, red coat, sweater and cap, breaking glass out of a french door at the unoccupied Skene house on North Monte Verde last Wednesday noon a Sun reporter hastened to the Matzke home near by and telephoned Gus Englund.

Speeding to the house, Englund caught the Skene's gardner in the act of replacing a cracked pane of glass.

Although perplexing as was the idea of a house-breaking in broad daylight, in view of the street, evidence was certainly convincing enough to warrant calling the police.

The man was seen to make an unsuccessful attempt at unlocking the door. He then took a knife from a kit of tools and ran it around the edge of the glass nearest the lock and in a minute there was a crash of breaking glass.

Watching from a safe distance the reporter saw the "burglar" calmly greet and calmly talk with the Chief of Police, showing him a check from the Skenes for identification, finally saw Englund unlock the door and walk away.

KUSTER PLAY COMING TO COMMUNITY THEATRE

In the drama, "Art and Mrs. Bottle," produced by Edward Kuster at the Community Theatre October 26, 27 and 28, playwright Benn Levy gives insight into what artistic children do in a family dedicated to the world of industry.

Even though Father Bottle is a sanitary engineer, his daughter Judy, played by Yvonne Castle, and son Michael, done by Philip Remer, strive to get above the commercial level only to discover that art is a backwash in a world of commercialism.

In the role of Max Lightly, an artist playboy, Arthur Hately portrays a man who is talented but inclined to stray, and involves the would-be un-commercial children of the prosaic Bottles. Albert Van Houtte, remembered for many characterizations on the local stages, is George Bottle, and Georgia Wapple does Celia, his ambitious wife. Edwina Pinkham is Sonia Tippet the art model, and Oudine Howser, who has done productions in the northwest, is taking Parsons, the parlor maid.

Tom Crosthwaite plays Charles Dawes, farmer suitor of Judy's, in this cast brings popular actors before Peninsula playgoers. Edward Kuster as the producer is known through the country for his little theater work, and this play is the renewal of the Golden Bough Players' offerings.

Tickets will be on sale at the booth opposite the postoffice, and will include the performances to take place in Watsonville and Salinas prior to the Carmel opening.

The San Jose Mercury has it that Morris Ankrem, well known here, will marry Miss Joan his work with the Fox Film Wheeler of Palo Alto as soon as his work as director with the Fox Film company and the New York run of "Growing Pains" in which Miss Wheeler has a lead, allow the time for a honeymoon.

Have you made your donation for a flag to be used in Sunset auditorium? Judge Wood is custodian of the fund and will be glad to take your gift until the desired amount of $14, the necessary amount, has been received.

BEN PHILLIPS WRITES ON LIEUT. GOV. RACE

IF JOHN SHOULD RUN

With the race begun,
If John should run
To get the Lieutenant Governor's place,
He'd make them step
With plenty of pep
Whoever might enter the coming race.

He sticks and stays
Tho rough be the ways,
We know by the races that he ran here,
Then if he must run
When they fire the gun
No trifling things shall interfere.

He's got the pluck,
And we wish him luck
In the hammer and tongs of politics,
But the goal that's sought
Is often fraught
With trials that call for the best of licks.

When once he'll place
His fate in the race
He'll make to voters a strong appeal,
And hammer away
Till election day
As he likes to hammer the iron and steel.

WANTED—Girl or woman to care for small child. Small wages and good home. Call 70 or write Box 137.

OLVERA STREET PUPPETS COMING HERE ON SUNDAY

The Olvera Street Puppets will give two performances this Sunday at the Community Playhouse, "Jimmy's Exciting Adventures at The Circus" at the 3 o'clock matinee, and "Puppet Gaities of '33" at 8:30 in the evening.

For five years the puppets have been playing daily in their own theatre on the famous Mexican street in Los Angeles, and this is the first outside offering they will make on their transcontinental tour. Critics unite in saying that the Olvera Street Puppets equal New York groups such as the Tony Sarg and the Jean Grosse, and their performances here will give a variety appealing to all ages.

In the Gaities will be seen such famous characters in miniature as Greta Garbo, Marie Dressler, Clark Gable and Joan Crawford.

FOR RENT—3-room apartment, furnished; gas water heater; range, fireplace; garage. $15. winter rate. P.O. Box 1511.

Raiguel Checks

"I have checked this synopsis with the original reports and it seems to me to express briefly and as clearly as possible their rather complicated and involved contents.

The impression I get from going over the reports is that Carmel may consider itself fortunate in the condition of its school buildings even though they may not meet all the requirements of a law written long after they were designed."

Signed by W. O. Raiguel,
Architect.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Higgens spent last week-end at their country club place. Mrs. Higgens is the daughter of Rea, attorney for the defense in the Lamson case.

Dorothy Foulger is in Carmel for a few days en route from Portland, Ore., to Pasadena, where she will join her husband, Byron K. Foulger, who has taken the position of assistant director occupied by Morris Ankrem before he went to Fox as a director.

Just Anything

By Just Anybody

The Jasmine Bush has something rather interesting in the way of glass floats from the nets of Japanese fishing boats. These floats were picked off the rocks at Inverness and though thrown there with great force by the waters seldom break. They are hand made hollow glass globes and used altogether by the old fishing boats but are now being replaced by cork. They are said to have been lost from fishing boats going from Japan to the Aleutian Islands, to fish for crabs. It is also stated that water is sometimes forced into the globe by the terrific pressure and that analysis shows it be distilled water. The floats range from about three inches in diameter to about six.

I like to stand around in the Betsy Ann Food Shop. Sometimes they give me a hot doughnut or a gem or something just out of the oven, and is it good! You've probably wondered what "Betsy Ann" means in connection with the shop? Well, it doesn't mean a thing, really. Except of course that Betsy Ann is a good old fashioned name and the shop puts out good, old fashioned cooking.

Carmel Valley

Mrs. Tom Meadows has entirely recovered from her recent illness. So much so that she is now able to visit in Carmel and thereabouts.

Mrs. Margaret Nicolay and her daughter spent the greater part of Monday in Salinas on a combined shopping and business trip.

Sally Scarlett is spending a week or ten days at the home of her aunt, Mrs. L. C. Hays of Hartnell street, in Monterey. During her sojourn there Mrs. Hays will visit with her husband in southern California.

At the last meeting of the Home Department of the Farm Center plans were completed for the annual Hi-jinks of the Federated Farm Centers. This year the jinks will take the form of a children's party, each member to be dressed as a child.. Each center is to prepare an original song as well as an original stunt. As usual Carmelo Center is ready to meet its obligations. The meeting will be held at Soledad October 26, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m., at American Legion hall.

Jack Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin, recently won a 15-inch cup, the Neptune Trophy, for swimming across the Golden Gate in the Chronicle race. He came in 28th. Hurrah for our Carmel Valley boys, anyway, and especially hurrah for Jack.

Mrs. Grant Wallace is spending some time with her husband at his camp in the Cachagua.

The marriage of Jack Ball and Mrs. Margaret Tyson took place Saturday, October 7. Mr. Ball has resided in Carmel Valley for several years and has many friends who are offering him their heartiest and best wishes.

About a year ago a new natural dam started in Logwood creek, caused by two nearby mountains evidently attempting to get better acquainted. At any rate, they sent up the first barrier which has grown so formidable that the tops of nearby sycamore trees are under water. As there is no road very near there, there is no danger in that respect. There is, or rather has been, a trail leading to it but no word has come that it has been obliterated.

Mrs. Mathiot, Sr., who has been staying with her son and wife at their home in the Valley, is leaving for her home in Ohio.

The appointment of Mrs. Howard Hatton on the board of commissioners in place of the late R. C. DeYoe seems a very logical one to all those interested in the affairs of that organization. Until recently there have been separate boards for each of the cities represented, Carmel, Monterey and Pacific Grove. However, since the appointment of the county commissioners there is no longer any necessity for so many different organizations. Mrs. Hatton has worked on both the Carmel and Monterey commission is well qualified to take the position. The promise of the federal government to advance funds to the county commission is largely responsible for amalgamation of the three local boards.

Jean Stewart and Eunice Scarlett attended the meeting of the Girls' League held in Paso Robles. This is an organization composed of high school girls and at their meetings they discuss the various problems that engage the attention of girls of that age.

Bernard Schulte will be one of those to attend the meeting to be held in Modesto on Thursday, the 12th. At this meeting Edward A. O'Neil is to talk about "The New Deal," especially in relation to agriculture. Mr. O'Neil comes from Alabama and his headquarters are now in Chicago. He spent eight years in Washington, D. C., trying to obtain adequate legal protection for farmers and a system under which American agriculture can stabilize itself. He has held meetings in various parts of the state as he is now on tour of California. Mr. O'Neil is president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.
